THREE FORMER OFFICERS LATE FIRST NATIONAL BANK INDICTED

Indictments of Federal Grand Jury at Tampa Charge Embezzlement, Misapplication of Funds and Making False Entries.

(Special Correspondence to St. Cloud Tribune.)

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 12.—Arthur E. Donegan, formerly president; A. W. Gustus, formerly cashier, and Paul K. Weaver, also a former officer of the late First National Bank of St. Cloud, have been indicted by the Federal grand jury and their bonds fixed at $5,000 each, charging embezzlement, misapplication of funds, and making false entries in connection with the affairs of the bank, which has been in the hands of a receiver since Dec. 27, 1917.

The indictments are said to have been returned sveral days ago, but were not made public until today.

In the indictment against A. E. Donegan there are ten counts charging embezzlement. In a second indictment, Donegan, together with P. K. Weaver, a former cashier, is charged with misapplication of funds, and A. W. Gustus, who was cashier at the time the bank failed, is charged with aiding and abetting the two other parties. In the third indictment, A. W. Gustus is charged with making false entries.

Capiases were sent to Jacksonville several days ago for the arrest of the men charged, ad were to have been served by today.

According to the United States attorney's office, the amount of money involved in the alleged embezzlements or misapplication of funds is between $150,000 and $200,000.

INDICTMENTS EXPECTED SEVERAL WEEKS.

Receiver R. M. Johnson, who has been in charge of the affairs of the late First National Bank since a few days after that institution was closed by National Bank Examiner Higgins on Dec. 27, 1917, told the Tribune today that indictments had been expected since several weeks ago, as several persons from Osceola county had been summoned before the Federal grand jury during February in connection with this case.

Up to the present time, divisions of the assets of the bank have totaled 30 per cent paid to the depositors.

the indictment and who was president Arthur E. Donegan, who is named in of the late First National Bank, resides in Kissimmee, and was in St. Cloud on Tuesday of this week, but gave out no information concerning having been served with a warrant in the case.

It is understood that bonds have been arranged for the three men, and they will awalt trial on the charges at the next term of the Federal court in Tampa, which is several months off.

Paul K. Weaver, who is named in one indictment, formerly was cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Kissimmee and later was connected with the First National Bank of St. Cloud,but after the bank her closed he obtained a position with the Federal bank department as a bank examiner, which position he held until he joined the United States military forces in the World War.

A. W. Gustus, who was cashier of the bank when it failed, left this section and went to Jacksonville, where until recently he was engaged in the automobile business.

Several other indictments were anticipated in connection with the bank failure in St. Cloud, but if they have been returned by the Federal grand jury the fact has not been made public—perhaps awaiting the serving of capiases on those involved.

Big Centenary Convention of Methodists in St. Cloud March 26

SOUTH FLORIDA DELEGATES AND MUCH OUT-OF-STATE TALENT WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE.

St. Cloud has been designated as one of the very few places in Florida where the big Methodist Centenary convention and training-conference teams are to stop in making their tours of the country.

The team that will come to this city comprises the best specialists the country affords.

The date set for the sessions of the subdistrict training conference for St. Cloud is Wednesday, March 26—thruout the day and in the evening.

Delegates will be present from Tarpon Springs, Oldsmar, Port Richey, St. Petersburg, Zephyr Hills, Sebring, Winter Park, Davenport, Taft, Mount Dora, Eustis, and perhaps other places.

The Methodist people of St. Cloud are preparing to entertain the convention visitors in their usual royal and hospitable manner and will make them glad they came, sorry to go away, and discontented because they do not live in the G. A. R. City.

The program will be published later. Our citizens and tourist residents should not fail to attend this really great event in a really great cause. It will be worth while for anybody to try to hear all the plans and aspirations involved in what the various speakers will have to say.

Important Matters Transacted at Meeting of City Council

The City Council met in its regular monthly session last Monday, with all its members and Mayor Conn present.

After the minutes of the last previous meeting were read and approved, Mrs. Wood appeared and complained that certain business-houses are kept open in violation of city and State laws, and she asked that action be taken to enforce the law—which was agreed to.

Mrs. Empson appeared before the council in regard to certain ditches on Indiana avenue, which matter was referred to the street committee.

A petition was filed asking the council to at once take steps to put in good condition some street that leads to the lake. No particular street was designated in the petition, the signers asking only that the work be done at once. The matter was referred to N. H. Washburn, street commissioner.

Dr. E. G. Farris appeared and asked the council to issue an order to the city plumbing inspector to grant a permit for one tap to be made to the city water mains for the three storerooms of the new Farris building, stating that he, as owner, would be responsible for the water rentals of the tenants who used the city water and in that way would eliminate any conflict that might arise by having more than one customer on one tap to the mains. He contended that the building, altho divided into three rooms, was under one ownership and that the property should be held responsible. Councilman King agreed that some action should be taken, and, on his motion, the city inspector was instructed to issue the permit as requested.

J. F. Bullard appeared and asked that a permit be granted to install a water supply at the Christian church—which was agreed to.

Capt. J. F. Farris asked the council if there is any way it might consider buying or creating a fund to purchase a lot of books left by the late Dr. Stewart, with the idea of adding them to the public library, There being no fund out of which this can be done, the matter was left to private subscriptions.

The Woman's Improvement Club requested the council to grant permission for improvements at the cemetery in the nature of planting flowers and vines, which was granted.

The monthly bills were read and ordered paid, excepting the Tribune's bill for publishing the recall-election proclamation. This bill was presented by Mayor Conn, with his approval, but was not ordered paid.

Mrs. Thayer appeared and asked that she be allowed a widow's exemption on last year's taxes. The matter was referred to the city attorney.

The Girls Glee Club of the St. Cloud High School presented to Mrs. Guy S. Morgan an electric grill in appreciation of her work as director of the club. The presentation was made at the club's business meeting today, which was held at Mrs. Morgan's home. After the meeting, English trifle, chocolate, and cake were served.

World Prohibition Services

THE Pastors of the various churches in St. Cloud are requested to preach on World Prohibition and Reconstruction Service at either their morning or evening service next Sunday. This request is being made by the W. C. T. U. on this date all over the country.

There will be a lecture on World Prohibition and Reconstruction Service, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., at the G. A. R. Memorial Hall on Sunday afternoon, March 16, 1919.

Everybody Cordially Invited

Tree Planting in Honor of Soldiers Who Went From Methodist Church

(Contributed.)

Tuesday was THE red-letter day with this church—the day wherein we remembered in a fitting manner those fine men who went from among us to the World War.

The G. A. R. Post and the G. A. R. Drum Corps had been invited, and the post came in a body and filled the room.

A large congregation greeted the speakers. The pastors of all the local churches had been invited to make addresses, but two were compelled to decline because of other engagements. Dr. May Puckett-Foster came and made a splendid and appropriate address, to the delight of all present. Rev. H. H. Bowen, the Methodists' pastor, also spoke.

Several songs were sung by the audience. After the speeches, the assemblage repaired to the church grounds, and there, with fitting ceremony, trees were planted and dedicated to the memory and in the names of the men who enlisted from this community and who were members of this church and its Sunday school.

Here addresses were delivered by Rev. N. W. Beauchamp, who two years taught the Yokefellows Sunday school class, in which most of the Methodist soldiers were members, and by Rev. J. B. Santee, Rev. August Peter, Rev. G. W. Brown, Rev. W. Frank Kenney, Rev Mr. Chrisman, and Rev. E. B. Riggs, who spoke at the naming of the trees.

Those whose names are thus honored are:

C. M. Arrowsmith,	Francis French,
Clarence Bailey,	Milford George,
Otto Bleech,	Clinton Jeffers,
H. F. Cathcart,	George Jeffers,
Joseph Cathcart,	Harry Jenness,
Clifton Coats,	Harry Johnson,
Charles Cobb,	George Marsh,
Samuel Cobb,	Clifford McAfee,
Floyd Davidson,	Colvin Parker,
J. M. Eycleshimer,	Fred Phipps,
Conway Firkin,	P. VanNatta,
Lieut. J. M. Huffman,

Following the planting of the trees, the Ladies' Aid Society served sandwiches, cookies, and coffee in the annex to all who would remain. A rain began, and some felt they had to leave, but many remained and enjoyed a social time and sang many of the good old songs, got acquainted or better acquainted, and enjoyed themselves in general.

"It was a day long to be remembered by all present," said one who attended.

Sunday was another fine day with this church. Large and attentive audiences attended the services.

Mrs. Keister sang again for us in the morning, and she and Capt. Nason sang a duet in the evening. These sweet singers have placed us much in their debt by their kind services. We are grateful to them. We regret to think of them leaving us and we shall greatly miss them.

Tuesday was a high day with us. The Ladies' Aid Society met in the annex at 2 p. m. and held a short and enthusiastic meeting.

The Sunday School Board met in its regular monthly session Tuesday evening and transacted the usual routine of business. Besides which, it made arrangements for the proper observance of Easter (April 20). Committees on program and music were appointed, with Mrs. Hendrix as chairman of the first and B. E. Gossford as chairman of the latter. The centenary program was ordered. The resignation of G. C. Kaufman as assistant superintendent was accepted, and Edgar Bass was elected to fill the vacancy. The reports showed the school has been doing excellent work in all its departments.

Several of the centenary units are holding cottage prayer meetings and having very fine times. Let the good work proceed. Methodism must be much on its knees if we are to win our part of the great spiritual victory that awaits those who will believe therefor. The work of the centenary moves on apace. Two new minute men have been named—Rev. N. W. Beauchamp and Rev. J. B. Westcott. Be sure to hear them.

It is hoped the services next Sunday will be of special interest to all, especially the members of the church. Everybody is invited to attend and will be welcomed.

VICTORY LOAN "DRIVE"

The Victory Loan "drive"—the fifth and probably the last—is scheduled to begin about April 1. The amount involved probably will be $5,000,000. Every effort is being made to make this a popular loan, to be subscribed for by just as many people as can be induced to take parts of it. During the fourth loan "drive" about 21,000,000 of people subscribed for bonds. It is hoped the number may be increased this time.

On March 6 J. A. Griffin, zone chairman convened the county chairmen, both men and women, in Tampa. Representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta were present to give instructions about the method for handling the impending loan "drive."

Each county will be assigned a quota, as heretofore, and each district in the county will be alloted its quota.

THE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES ARE URGING VERY STRONGLY THE INAUGURATION OF THE "FAIR-AND-SQUARE" INDIVIDUAL QUOTA."

The idea for this sort of quota is for the committee to go over a list of ALL the people in the county and assess each the amount of bonds he is supposed to be able to take.

The Federal authorities suggest that no subscription for an amount smaller than that fixed by the committee be accepted; that the one who is alloted a specific amount may have the right of appeal, to ask for a reduction, but that only in that way can he or she get a reduction.

The expenses of the war are not over. Therefore the Government authorities demand and expect help from whoever is able to render it in raising money for these expenses. "Let there be no slackers," says a statement from the "drive" managers.

"Drive" Committee For St. Cloud.

Mayor J. K. Conn, who is chairman of the St. Cloud "drive" committee, announces the appointment of the following as the committee to handle the Victory Loan campaign in St. Cloud and its vicinity:

William T. Angel, Sam Brammar, A. J. Brown, Otto Bleech, Dr. O. L. Buckmaster, James Campbell, A. Diefendorf, A. E. Drought, Edd George, James Goff, John A. McCarthy, John Somerville, William H. Stauffer, and W. H. Tunnicliffe.

BONNIE LASS OF IRELAND IN "IRISH EYES."

Tuesday night St. Cloud's Palm theater will offer that winsome little star of the screen, Pauline Starke, in "Irish Eyes." This is a role that offers every opportunity for her to display her talent and her personality. Her role is that of a lass of Ireland, a little girl whose comprehension of life has been dreamy. Her only happiness is the joy she finds in the caresses of the waves of the Irish sea as they play along the shore.

In the cast supporting Miss Starke are such well-known Triangle players as Joe King, Eugene Burr, and Rae Godfrey.

SEEKS 1,000,000 MEMBERS AND A $1,000,000.00 FUND

W. C. T. U. WILL TAKE GREAT PART IN POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION—$400 AND 400 MEMBERS ASKED OF OSCEOLA COUNTY. NEWS ABOUT LOCAL ORGANIZATION'S ACTIVITIES.

BY CLARA E. KENNEY.

The national situation appears encouraging, in a way, to all prohibition advocates and workers, but the opposition element is very busy trying to establish the unconstitutionality of the prohibition measures.

The reconstruction work which now confronts the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is immense. The cessation of war and its strain and suffering leaves us time and opportunity to study the surrounding conditions. Social as well as business life is affected. The return of "the boys" means that they must have the best possible surroundings, and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union must do its part in creating these. We have learned many lessons during this war. We have learned that there must be health before we can have efficiency; that we cannot have success without efficiency, and that efficiency comes from clean and pure living, training, and thinking.

When that little handful of pioneer temperance women at Hillsboro, Ohio, in 1873, literally went into the trenches of mud and filth to kneel and pray for the banishment of the saloon, facing a storm of curses, sneers, and stones, no one then could foresee the wildfire spread of the principles for which they were making such courageous and prayerful defense.

But that was the foundation of an organization that now is known all over the world; for in 1874 the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union was started, and it now has a half million members and is organized in every State or territorial possession of the United States and in more than forty countries of the world.

Its chosen motto, "For God and home and native land," was later enlarged to "For God and home and every land."

Many "departments of work", covering the great "do-everything" policy of its leader, Frances E. Willard, were created, making a firm foundation for its works of morals and mercy.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union, having been the first organization of its kind in the field, has a foothold and a prestige held by no other organization engaged in world-wide work of reconstruction, and great things are expected of us.

Shall we be "weighed in the balance and found wanting"?

We are called upon for a national jubilee offering—1,000,000 new members and $1,000,000—for this great work.

Florida's quota in this is 20,000; and for Osceola county, it is $400.

The big membership drive to obtain these members will begin March 15 and continue until March 25.

Will St. Cloud raise $200 of the $400 expected of the county?

There will be boxes placed in different parts of town to receive contributions—one at Dr. Foster's office, one at Mallory's store, and others at other places.

The $1,000,000 wanted for the jubilee budget will be divided as follows:

Child welfare	$150,000
Health and morality	100,000
Americanization	200,000
Women in industry	30,000
Education and information	50,000
Field service	30,000
Administration	70,000

GREAT LECTURE IN G. A. R. MEMORIAL HALL NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 16.

BY MRS. EVA C. EASTON,
Press Correspondent.

Under the auspices of our local Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Lillian Fulton of St. Augustine, Fla., will deliver a lecture in G. A. R. Memorial hall at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, March 16.

Mrs. Fulton's subject will be "World-Wide Prohibition and Reconstruction Work."

Everybody is cordially invited to attend and hear one of the greatest temperance lectures ever given in St. Cloud.

The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union has made BIG plans for a $1,000,000 "drive."

We are gathering this fund as a thank offering to the Lord. Our organization, born of God, could not do otherwise than make big plans.

We are gathering this fund that we may do our part in the great reconstruction work.

We are gathering this fund that we may continue our work in America.

We are gathering this fund to help win prohibition for the world. The goal has been set for 1925. The work will not wait.

We ar preparing to celebrate more than fifty years of activity which has contributed largely to a "dry" nation in 1920.

Out of this $1,000,000 jubilee fund, Florida's share of contribution is $20,000; Osceola county's share is $400.

This $1,000,000 fund is to be variously used—necessarily so. Our organization's activity constantly has broadened. Even if the Woman's Christian Temperance Union had only one objective—prohibition in the United States—its work could not stop. The liquor people are using will continue to use, every insidious and treacherous means in their power to have the constitutional amendment declared unconstitutional and to prevent the creation of adequate machinery for its enforcement.

Closing saloons will not immediately take away the appetite for liquor in the drinking man. "Wet" leaders will be quick to grasp this point to create dissatisfaction and cause labor disturbances.

Total abstinence still must be taught, or later years will see a repeal of the prohibition amendment.

The enemy is not dead, is not sleeping. Would you for a moment have the women in our country fold their hands and say: "Our temperance work is finished"?

A silver offering will be taken at the lecture to defray its expenses.

MEETING OF LOCAL W. C. T. U.

The St. Cloud Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the Baptist church on March 3 last. Mrs. Kibbe was chosen acting president, in the absence of Mrs. Kenney, who was detained at home because of sickness in her family. Mrs. Kibbe conducted the meeting in a very interesting manner.

Our leader of the program being kept at home by the sickness of her husband, Mrs. Easton took her place and presented an interesting program. She read a paper that was interesting as well as instructive.

Mrs. Easton was followed by Mrs. Depew, Mrs. Eversole, Mrs. Riley, and others.

Mrs. Sprague rendered a real treat in music and which we all enjoyed.

A goodly number was in attendance. The session was dismissed by a prayer offered by Mrs. Mathews.

The union will meet again on March 17. Everybody is cordialy invited to attend.

NANCY STILLWELL, Secretary.

Mooseheart in Film Pictures at G. A. R. Hall Last Night

Quite a large audience enjoyed an interesting lecture about and witnessed moving pictures of "Mooseheart," the university home of the fraternal order known as the Loyal Order of Moose when M. M. Reynolds, district supervisor, appeared in G. A. R. Memorial hall last night.

Lr. Reynolds formerly served as pastor of Methodist churches, having devoted fifteen years of his life to the ministry. He continued in that work until a visit to Mooseheart showed him that, to quote his own words, "to do right because it is right to do right," according to the plan of the leaders of the Loyal Order of Moose, convinced him that organization was undertaking the greatest humanitarian work in the country.

The four reel pictures showed the 1,040-acre farm surrounding the Mooseheart [illegible] and farm buildings and illustrated the details of the great work being carried out for the widows and orphans of members of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Mr. Reynolds is an eloquent speaker and kept his audience following closely the development of the institution he represents. He cited the fact that ex-President Roosevelt was one of the leading members of the order, and that so efficient had become the school system at Mooseheart that their methods had been copied by several Government departments and by a Japanese delegation which spent several weeks at the home.

Mr. Reynolds announced that the charter of the local lodge had been opened for the admission of new members and that he would be here several days to assist the local organization.

A handkerchief shower was given to Miss Mary Young at her home Monday evening by a number of her friends. It was a complete surprise. As the guests entered her home, the shower began, and handkerchiefs floated thru the air to the fair hostess. After a very pleasant evening, including music, the guests were surprised by being served ice cream and cake by the hostess' mother and Mrs. Barager. The showerers, in taking their departure, wished for Miss Mary a safe journey and a happy future. She soon will leave for her wedding in Canada.

PLUMBING

SUPERB APPOINTMENTS in the way of plumbing—that is our specialty.

We can lend elegance and sanitary precaution to the home.

AT THE FIRST SIGN OF BILIOUSNESS TAKE A CALOTAB

The New Nauseless Calomel That Does the Work Without the Slightest Unpleasantness or Danger of Salivation

Ask your doctor, and he will tell you that calomel is the best and only sure remedy for a lazy liver, biliousness, indigestion, and constipation. Now that all of its unpleasant and dangerous qualities have been removed, calomel, in the form of Calotabs, is the easiest and most pleasant of all laxatives to take. One tablet at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. In the morning you feel simply fine—live, wide awake, energetic, strong, and with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please and go about your work. No danger of salivation.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages; price, 35 cents. Your druggist recommends and guarantees Calotabs by offering to refund the price if you are not delighted with them (Adv.)

Baby and the Soldiers

BY JACKERCRACK.

"I can tell you a story of the Civil War," said a veteran's wife, "that very few others can.

"The war was over, and the boys were coming home. The train rolled into the depot at Bellefontaine, Ohio, and the citizens went down to see it. The train was loaded with soldiers.

"Among those at the station was a lady with a baby in its first short dress (white). The engine was taking water when a military officer jumped from a car platform and went up to the lady. He said:

"'Madame, I'll give you a dollar to let me kiss your baby.'

"He did not wait for an answer, but grabbed the little one and ran back with it to the car. He sprang aboard and walked down the car aisle with the baby. Every soldier in the car kissed the child as he passed along.

"The engineer and fireman had finished their work at the station, the bell rang, and the wheels began to move. The woman cried out:

"'Oh, where is my baby?'

"Then the officer who stole the baby appeared at the rear door of the car with what was left of the child. The baby was blinking and winking with astonishment.

"The lady ran to meet the officer and get the baby and the dollar. He handed the infant darling back to mamma, among the shouts of the passengers and the people outside on the platform; but the dollar was never paid."

A Home of Curiosities

By Jackercrack.

Sun Dial is the name, on North Wisconsin and Eleventh street; and there is a sun dial 150 years old in the yard, twelve months per year. Mrs. Mary Veeder is the owner of this interesting place.

There are 115 pitchers in the house, no two alike, and from various nations.

Mrs. Veeder has now, almost finished, a palmetto suit. She expects to appear in it on some one's carpet this week. When she goes forth in this novel costume, she will hold in her hand a palmetto parasol which she has organized to overtop the suit.

In the side yard, among many trees, is a two-story birdhouse. It stands high in the air. The name of the bird home is Wing Rest. There are twelve rooms in it for Mr. and Mrs. bird, a couple in each room, and there have been in it thirty-six birds on a special occasion.

Mrs. Veeder's son Ed and her adopted boy, Fred Thayer, had just arrived from the canal with a string of fish, thirteen bass, cat, and perch in the bunch.

Street-by-Street Notes in St. Cloud

BY JACKERCRACK.

WYOMING AVENUE TO THE FRONT

This Is The Highest Point Of The City Of St. Cloud.

"You stay down here, and you'll live sixty-five years longer."

This is what George W. Wise said to me at the south end of the street. Ten years ago he cleared the ground where the home is now. There are two lots, and a cozy little house for Mr. Wise and his partner. Mrs. Wise came four years ago from Moline, Ill. She is a native of Germany and he of Pennsylvania. Chickens live here. They have a good house.

Some measles on this street. The chief sufferer now is a baby.

"If I was mayor," said a lady resident and property owner, "if a man would not pay his taxes, I would make them higher, if I could, if he was able to pay."

Every one should be willing to do his or her part for necessary and indispensable public improvements.

George M. Fell, a war veteran of Company B, Twenty-Sixth Ohio Regiment, lives on this avenue near Ninth street. He has been totally blind for three years. He came to St. Cloud nine years ago. Since last March he has done his own cooking. He lives alone, and nearly every day some one calls to see him, some of them ladies.

Building a new house. On Wyoming avenue, corner of Tenth street, W. J. Withey is doing it. The residence will be a five-room bungalow. There are three lots around it. Full-width front porch, and the room walls will be papered and decorated. There will be a double room, with pillars and pedestals of mahogany. The rest of the rooms will be finished in golden oak. When done, this residence will be ahead of anything in its make-up in the city of St. Cloud.

LIKE A PIECE OF CHEESE.

Vermont Avenue Is Small, Good, And High.

"Did you know it's in the Bible?"

"What?" said I.

She answered, "Like a man washes a dish," and she said that was the exact language of the sacred book, and explained that was the way her man washed them, at their home, turning them down on the family stove.

Here is the full statement in the Bible (II Kings, chapter 21, verse 13): "I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down."

I was talking to Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hart, on Vermont avenue.

Their place is a fine one—good house with four lots around it. Among other things on the ground are loquats and guavas, both bearing.

I was sorry to meet a married couple, residents of this avenue, who can not read or write. They live alone, and how they learn anything of the great doings of the times is doubtful. Too bad!

This avenue is not cut thru from the railroad north, and there are woods there. I suggest that enough of the trees be cut out on each side of the street to make room for sidewalks, and enough cut out of the middle for a driveway, and that the other trees be left right where they are, permanently. Some benches could be put in, for rest; there would be a home for birds; and the place would be a pretty spot in the city.

CALIFORNIA FIGS MIGHT GROW.

Other Items Along California Avenue.

There are only eleven houses on this street, but there is always something doing where there are people; and where there is chance for so little to happen what there is becomes that much more noticeable.

Mrs. Mary Cole has a fine little home on the south end. Last year she sold this place, went North, and the following fall bought it back.

I want to say it
Clear and loud:
It does not pay
To leave St. Cloud.

Here balmy air
And sunny skies
Will bless one's life
Until she dies.

Far from the cold of Northern State,
The citizen here knows
That St. Cloud is the open gate
To joy, rest, and repose.

Mrs. Cole has for several years accommodated good people with board who wished it.

C. J. Erickson had a cozy little homestead on this avenue. Last winter he went to the Soldiers' Home in Johnston City, Tenn., and passed away there. A search has been going on since to find the heirs. Mr. George Gould has been writing to Chicago to try to locate them. Mr. Erickson, it appears, had not been in communication with any relative since 1902—seventeen years. At that time, it is known here, he had a sister in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Stout live in the last house on the south end. The gentleman has made a kitchen pantry that looks to be as good workmanship as a professional carpenter would do. He is also building an addition to the west side of the house that would be all right for a summer kitchen. Mr. and Mrs. Stout are natives, like the writer, of the fine Hawkeye State of Iowa.

J. A. Watson will have Tom Watson watermelons and another variety from Washington, D. C. His corn is now in tassle, and he will raise the Frijola (Mexican) beans—many of them. They will ripen early.

Samuel Sparks has been sick for the last three weeks from a paralytic stroke. He is 80 years old, a veteran, and came to St. Cloud five years ago from Minnesota. He says he may be now about the end of life's last chapter, but that he does not care.

WASHINGTON CROSSED THE DELAWARE

He Would Be Interested Could He See St. Cloud's Avenue Thus Named.

The Maples is the name of a cozy home on the corner of Delaware avenue and Eleventh street. It proves its name. In the little front yard are four maples, and there is one outside the fence. These trees were transplanted from the lake seven years ago. One of them flowers once per year; very pretty. They were in blossom last week, but are now gone. Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Houston live here. They are from Beaver Falls, Pa. The gentleman is a veteran.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Eales, who have been residing on the corner of North Delaware and Tenth street, are about to move to a most desirable residence on Tenth street near the business district. They are Pine Tree Staters, from Maine, and have been here all winter.

"St. Cloud is a lovely place to live in. I wouldn't live anywhere else. It is like being in Heaven." Thus spoke Mrs. P. H. Marcille in her charming home, on North Delaware. Her husband has the same sentiments. Formerly of Maine.

The brightest green grass I have seen in St. Cloud is at the home of E. P. Jones, a bachelor, who lives on the last settled block of North Delaware. This grass is a walk three feet wide from porch to the front gate. On either side of the walk are potato patches, covering the whole front yard. In the back yard are more potatoes, cabbages, and turnips. Mr. Jones is a Welshman from Wales and came to St. C. five years ago from Pennsylvania.

A. J. Nichols of the East End has had much newspaper experience. He began at Foxboro, Mass., the State where he was born. In his office there he did job work for a big factory that had a national business. His receipts from this one source were about $18,000 a year. While in Foxboro, he printed newspapers for three other towns. After he sold out at Foxboro, he published papers in three other towns. He acknowledges he made a mistake in not leaving well enough alone and staying at Foxboro. We have all had this unwise experience. Mr. Nichols is a veteran, was a captain, and is now 80 years old.

"Pleasant Home" is the title of the sweet abiding place of Mr. and Mrs. Z. Barager. The house is a commodious one, with broad porch and plenty of yard on each side. A son, Corporal Delbert Haney, left his little boy Virgil, here with the grandparents while he is away. He is now in Camp Custer and is expected in St. Cloud soon—back from France.

AN AVENUE OF ALL GOOD PEOPLE

The Name Has Been Borrowed From The Wolf State.

Wisconsin.—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Riley spent Tuesday at the Kibbe home, on South Wisconsin avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Kibbe expect to return to their "old Kentucky home" this summer. They have not been back for three years.

At the home called "Westleigh" is an American flag suspended from a pretty pole under the porch roof that is now a complete white. One year hanging there in the weather continuously has bleached it.

"I think the taxes on this avenue are too high, unless the city gives us some much-needed improvements. I am paying $4.10 strain on the two lots here, where I live. Two years ago the tax was $1. I know the war has increased prices, and I am not kicking about paying my part; but the tax still seems to me so up that I think the city should, as soon as possible, make some improvements to balance the account.

"One of these is deep enough gutters to drain off the water during rainy times. There is no concrete sidewalk on this avenue, and, it being three or four blocks to the first street light going up town from my place, it is a hard trip a dark night, and especially during wet weather."

Thus said E. W. Fewox, whose home is the last house on South Wisconsin avenue.

MISSISSIPPI AVENUE JOTS.

The parlor of the Yeager home has been beautified by cream-colored wallboard. This is the best color in the world to make a room light. The roof has been painted red.

William Raschke has been a resident of this thinly populated avenue for seven years, with his wife. They came from Missouri. The couple were born in Germany. Mr. Raschke was in Uncle Sam's army three years and in the navy the same time, continuously, from 1861 to 1867.

VIRGINIA AVENUE DOTS.

John J. Malone, his wife and four girls have a home in the last house on the north end of this avenue. The girls were all born in St. Cloud.

This avenue is little;
Some people here are big.
There are no dogs or chickens,
No horse or cow or pig.

Sand Ridge is a name a lady has given her neighborhood south of the Sugar Belt railroad.

This street is so rural that the festive rabbit is now and then skipping across the avenue.

Mrs. Jane Brown, on the south end of this avenue, is one of the brainy women of St. Cloud. Her native country was New York.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin, from western Pennsylvania, have been sojourning on this avenue for two months. The old gentleman has been ill for six weeks. He told me that he is gradually approaching the end of this Earthly pilgrimage.

Goodness and Pleasure Here in St. Cloud

BY JACKERCRACK.

It is not needful for one to be mean or bad, or wicked in order to enjoy himself or herself.

At the St. Cloud ministerial monthly meeting, that convened in the Methodist church annex Monday forenoon, several matters were talked over by the members present pertaining to the welfare (goodness), and therefore concerning the happiness, of the people of this city. The only sure way to be happy is to be good; in fact, it is a question whether any one can enjoy anything 100 per cent if it is evil or degraded and degrading; and if it is not good, there is always an afterpart of misery and regret.

I am not saying this from a church point of view. I am saying it from a common-sense standpoint and from the standpoint of every man, woman, and child who reads these lines—from their experience in life and from my own.

One member at this meeting said there were TOBACCO SIGNS AROUND TOWN that have an evil influence (or likely to have it) on boys who see them. One is a picture of a man smoking a cigaret. This member presented this because he was asked to by a man in town. The point was made that any evil (public) in town could be forbidden by the City Council that did not clash with State law; and it is very generally known that cigaret smoking by minors is unlawful; therefore remove the temptation from boys to break that law by removing these poster tobacco signs that are around town.

Action by the association on this matter was postponed till the next meeting, which is after the coming city election.

A lady complained to the association that a certain refreshment place is RUNNING ALL DAY SUNDAY. This was referred to the poolroom committee for action to prevent.

The Methodist pastor then took the floor and made some timely remarks. He said THIS IS A UNIQUE COMMUNITY. "It is a question if there is any town anywhere like this." Seventy years is the age of the majority of the citizens. There is a class of youths and only 200 children.

There is an irreligious, immoral, and lawlessly inclined element here.

This speaker spoke glowingly of the benefit of the Boy Scouts and urged their reinstatement in St. Cloud. Boys, he asserted, at about the age of puberty naturally flock together; girls at the same age do the same. This is nature's safeguard for each sex, and at this time each should have a leader. Plainly speaking, there should be Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. This age of the sexes is the "gang age." There are thirty boys here of this age. The Boy Scout move is a solution of safeguarding the boys thru this "gang age," and an organization for the girls during that period essentially the same to fit their case is desirable for the girls.

Leaders are needed for the different ages of boys from 10 to 16 years of age.

The speaker moved, and it was seconded, that the following committee be appointed to organize a board of control to BRING BACK THE SCOUTS and carry on the Scout scheme: Claud F. Johnson (chairman), Prof. James F. Bullard, James Goodwin, and Harry Hildebrand.

Another speaker said that the Scout business is inclined to put a boy on his honor. "When a boy is trying to keep others straight, it helps to keep him straight."

A committee of three was appointed to investigate and report on OBJECTIONABLE PICTURES at the local picture show, if there are any such that should be prevented from being shown to the public.

It was stated that conduct of children in the schools has improved.

SHAMEFUL CONDUCT of some young people (or children) at the G. A. R. hall entertainments. It was agreed by all something must be done to stop this.

A gentleman present set forth that before a hall should be granted for a show, it should be known exactly what the show would be. He mentioned one that showed here that offered to give half the money received to a blind man, and that it was outrageously improper, fit only for the "red light" district of a city.

SAFEGUARDING AND IMPROVING the moral condition of the city was the golden thought and purpose of the meeting. No one present had any desire to sit in judgment on any one, or curb or decrease any one's pleasure in St. Cloud. Just the opposite spirit and purpose was shown by every one there. Ways to increase the pleasure and welfare of all in the city, without sacrificing morality and right—that was the thought, feeling, and object of each one present.

"AT THE BEAUTIFUL WHITE GATE."

[Below are the words of the song Mr. D. Orrine Magoune ("Jackercrack") will sing in the Baptist church next Sunday night.]

"O mamma! what sha'l we do now,
Since papa has gone away?
He's in Heaven, with the angels bright,
But I've wanted him all day."

CHORUS.

"Bessie dear, let us be good and true;
In our home a while to wait;
And then we'll go. Papa will meet us there,
At the beautiful white gate,
Do you think he's far away?

"But, mamma, I am so lonesome!
It will be so long to stay
Here! I guess papa can see us now,
At the beautiful gate."

"He was so kind to us, darling,
And you know he loved us so."
"O mamma! I hope it won't be long,
'Til to papa we can go!"

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Army and Navy Union meets every second and fourth MONDAY afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Moose home. E. Vreeland, Lady Commander. 18-tf

THE REXALL STORE — NOT HOW CHEAP BUT HOW GOOD — ST. CLOUD, FLORIDA

St. Cloud Tribune

Published Every Thursday by St. Cloud Tribune Company

Entered as Second Class Mail Matter, April 28, 1910, at the Post Office at St. Cloud, Florida, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

CLAUD F. JOHNSON - - - Editor and Owner

The Tribune is published every Thursday and mailed to any part of the United States, postage free, for $2.00 a year, $1.00 six months, or 50c three months—strictly in advance.

TAMPA MORNING TRIBUNE AND STATE INSURANCE OF BANK DEPOSITS.

About three weeks ago an editorial on this page endorsed and advocated State insurance for moneys deposited in State banks—the cost of this insurance to be borne by these banks. To which the Tampa Morning Tribune took exceptions and made criticisms.

To answer all of the arguments advanced by the T. M. T. in reply to our editorial would take too much space and make too long an article for one issue of of the St. Cloud Tribune. So only two statements made by our Tampa friend are dealt with now. Its other objections will serve as texts for further and later remarks. Says the T. M. T.:

We have not seen the Oklahoma law referred to, but [illegible]

There are State banks in Florida having more than $5,000,000 deposits. Where would the St. Cloud Tribune get the "contribution" to make sure the insurance of this amount. Suppose some fellow swiped all or practically all—which, of course, is impossible—of this amount. Is the contribution from the other banks going to be sufficient to pay back in full the losses of this one?

Well—of all things! Our Tampa contemporary might as well argue against life insurance, fire insurance, etc., because—what would happen were all the insured persons to die at once, or all the insured houses were to be burned at once, etc.?

It would be much more reasonable to argue against permitting any banking at all because all the depositors in one or more or even all of the banks might simultaneously demand the return of their deposits to themselves and thus cause the bank or banks to fail.

Our Tampa friend basis its argument (above) on a preposterous or impossible premise or situation—and frankly so admits! To-wit: "Suppose some fellow swiped all, or practically all" of the funds of a bank having $5,000,000 deposits—"which is, of course, impossible"! Nevertheless this impossible possibility (?) is used as an argument against State insurance of bank deposits!

No embezzler or other looter can steal ALL or even half of moneys deposited in banks—for the very good reason that every bank keeps most of such deposits loaned, with real estate or other collateral as security. The deposits thus are out of reach of any looter.

Furthermore—nearly all failed banks have assets from which usually the bulk of funds entrusted to them is repaid—a large percentage, at least.

How on Earth, then, can any bank looter steal ALL of the funds deposited in any bank?

difficult under State insurance of bank deposits because the honest, sounds and business-like banks will keep close the honest, sound and business-like banks kill keep close watch on any bank inclined to criminal, loose, or super-speculative banking transactions. This will be done as a matter of self-protection—to prevent depletion or dissipation of the deposits-insurance fund and consequent repeated contributions from the banks to maintain it at the required sum. Whenever any bank is "unsound," this fact always is known to not fewer than two or three other banks. The well-behaved banks would have none of Job's patience for repeatedly replenishing the insurance fund to make good the havoc wrought by the black-sheep banks There would be few such black-sheep banks, because something would happen to most of them as soon as they started to change their wool to a sable hue.

The law of averages should, would, must, and will apply in insuring bank deposits as much as it does in insuring lives and property—and in other forms of insurance and other businesses. The law of insurance averages therefore would maintain the deposits-insurance fund without any more, and prospectively much less, hardship on the contributing banks than is the case with the premium-payers who maintain the funds used to meet insurance losses in other businesses.

The knowledge of even the Tampa Tribune's able editor should not be expected to be omnigenous nor omniscient, but surprising is his statement that he is unfamiliar with the Oklahoma bank-insurance statute and that he doubts its practical operation in that State!

This form of banking insurance has been in effective and satisfactory operation in Oklahoma about nearly as long as that Commonwealth has been in the Union—almost twelve years. A member of the Florida Legislature publicly states that this insurance is in satisfactory operation in five other States also—about which we frankly confess our lack of information.

Metropolitan disseminators of news, including the Associated Press, have not made a feature of reporting the "workings" of Oklahoma's bank-deposits-insurance law. Its operation has been too "practical" and successful to suit them and their banking friends. HAD THIS OKLAHOMA LAW BEEN A FAILURE, WE WOULD HAVE HAD MANY FIRST PAGE STORIES ABOUT IT. We know our Associated Press and other supposedly impartial purveyors of news.

The Oklahoma law's operation has been so "practical" and so satisfactory that, judging from occasional and more or less obscure comments about it, the Oklahoma office-holder or office-seeker who might become foolish enough to advocate its repeal or its emasculation soon would find himself stranded on the shoals of private life.

G. ADAMS BACKS UP MANATEE'S BACK-STEPPERS.

Our exchanges from Manatee county last week necessarily had our special attention; and it was with strained expectancy that the Manatee Banner was unfolded and perused.

There was anxiety to know whether our friend and fellow beast of burden, George Adams (editor of the M. B.), would hee-haw or would balance himself on his fore feet and let fly with his heels at or about what this Tribune said Feb. 20 of Manatee county's commissioners back-stepping by dispensing with the services of its county agricultural adviser and its home-work demonstrator. For George can and usually does one or 'tother.

Naturally, George's editorial columns (second page) got first attention. He let fly with his heels, all right, and the Tribune editor dodged just in time to escape a pile-driver wallop. George says the county commissioners acted just like wise men in that back-stepping matter.

Some one has written that "a child can ask more questions in an hour than a wise man can answer in a lifetime." Not that George Adams is childish, nor that the Tribune scribbler is anything extra wiseish. Far from it both ways. Nevertheless our Banner brother raises too many points to deal with all at once. We will have to correctively dose him seriatim—weekly—in efforts to show him the errors of his ways agriculturally and home-workly. It must suffice this week to quote him in part, thus:

It so happens that Messrs. Kirkhuff and Frier did most of the moving and seconding at that particular session of the board, altho Mr. Kirkhuff denies having seconded the motion to dispense with the services of the county demonstration agent and the home demonstration agent.

To a man familiar with the business of the Manatee county commissioners, there is nothing very strange in the fact that Messrs. Kirkhuff and Frier made and seconded the majority of the motions. It is not nearly as strange as why Claud Johnson, up in Osceola county, should take it upon himself to butt into Manatee county affairs and offer facetious advice as to how we might further economize. Messrs. Kirkhuff and Frier are old members of the board, familiar with the business that has heretofore been transacted, while Messrs. Whitaker and Gibbens are newly elected members and had been in office but one month. It would not be very becoming in the latter to attempt to monopolize the business, altho we are willing to wager that they will be "among those present" and have their full say-so when any business of importance is brought up.

We hold no brief for Mr. Kirkhuff nor Mr. Frier, but we can inform our esteemed friend Johnson that neither of these gentlemen will dominate Manatee's Board of County Commissioners, and we do not believe they have any desire to do so.

Mr. Kirkhuff did not second the motion to dispense with the services of Mr. Caswell as county demonstration agent or Miss McGriff as home demonstration agent.

As to the movings and movies of Messrs. Frier and Kirkhuff, the Tribune based its statements on the official records as writ by the clerk of Manatee's Board of County Commissioners and as printed in the reliable Sarasota Times. The records show Mr. Kirkhuff seconded Mr. Frier's motion to take Manatee county off the list of progressive counties in Florida. If Mr. Whitaker, and not Mr. Kirkhuff, seconded that motion, the misstatement or error is not ours. We stand on the record. Brer Adams can land on the clerk.

This much more, however, on that point. If Mr. Whitaker seconded that motion—we are a-s-t-o-n-i-s-h-e-d! He is the only one of Manatee's commissioners on whom we have "a line." Indirectly, and from information obtained several years ago, we know of him as a man of more than usual progressiveness. His action in this matter can be explained only by saying that he had not studied the situation himself and had been inaccurately informed about the functions, performances, and ever-increasing usefulness of average county agricultural advisers and home-work demonstrators.

We are loath to defer printing and comenting on all of Editor Adams's remarks until next week, but we need space for some other remarks relevant to this matter.

All of G. A.'s editorial remarks on other topics then were turned to and absorbed—for his remarks always are interesting and to the point, no matter how much one may disapprove his views. In the course of which this was noted:

Manatee county did not put forth much of an effort to have a particularly attractive exhibit at the South Florida Fair this year; yet she won the first prize. Let's show 'em a real exhibit next year.

It is necessary to cut this short—to leave out its last and most important part until later. Too many advertisements this week. Business before pleasure—tho ads are at once business AND pleasure. Some remarks about "butting in," however.

This thought instantly formed: "Doubtless most of this showing and excellence was due to the work of the county agricultural adviser and the county home-work demonstrator; but no one will think of giving them any credit for it, and what credit is due them would be hard tangibly to prove, anyhow, no matter how true." Then attention wandered to the third page and noted this:

The Manatee County Fair opened Tuesday morning with a good attendance. * * * The fair is in full swing and is the best yet. See account next week.

Whereupon occurred the thought: "Yes; and probably nobody realizes how much has been done by the county agricultural adviser and the county home-work demonstrator to make it 'the best yet.'"

Then to the fourth and last page; and attention was drawn to the lengthy list of prizes won by Manatee county exhibitors at the recent Tampa fair; and came this thought: "More results of the agricultural adviser's and home-work demonstrator's labors; but, of course, it would be difficult and quite impolitic for these two workers to claim much or any of the credit, and other people probably do not know and perhaps do not care." A rarity, indeed, is the farmer who is willing or even inclined to divide credit with anybody else for the results (if good) obtained on his farm, even when he knows his work was shaped or inspired by others. The celebrated Sydney Smith knew his subject when, about 100 years ago, he wrote:

There are three things that every man fancies he can do—farm a small property, drive a gig, and write an article for a review.

Of course, Smith meant "every man" having some education—which includes a vastly larger proportion of population nowadays than in his time. He knew his farmer, anyhow.

Manatee—"Banner County Of Florida."

Manatee county has again been declared the "banner county of Florida."

At the South Florida Fair, in Tampa, impartial judges have viewed her products and stated that they were the best exhibited by any of south Florida's wonderful counties. By their decision they have proclaimed Manatee county to be the garden spot of the United States, for they have decided that she is the garden spot of Florida; and Florida is known the world over as the garden spot of the world. * * * * * * *

The benefits Manatee county will derive by winning the grand sweepstakes prize at the South Florida Fair are so apparent that we trust our county commissioners will at once make a liberal appropriation for the next fair—an appropriation large enough that we may excel all former efforts. It will be money well spent and will bring big dividends in the way of taxes from new developments later on. * * * * * * * * * * * * *

Manatee county exhibitors took many prizes at the the fair, and the city of Manatee was well represented among the prize winners, one of the most important first prizes being awarded to our Home Demonstration Club for the best exhibit. The Bradentown club took second. Mrs. Joseph Gates of Manatee secured first prizes for the best jelly exhibit, best canned celery, best watermelon preserves, best guava jelly, and best kumquat preserves.

Laying aside until later comment about the general benefits Manatee county probably has derived from its farm and home-work advisers, it is morally certain that Miss McGriff and Mr. Caswell did more than any other one man and one woman in Manatee county in collecting and supervising the preparation of Manatee's exhibits at the Tampa fair. If not, the Manatee situation is considerably different from that existing when such exhibits are prepared and collected in other counties where such workers are employed. Usually they "work their heads off" trying to encourage and collect exhibits worthy of their counties.

As to Claud Johnson "butting in" on Manatee county's affairs: Does George think Manatee county is Key West (alias Monroe county)—a free and independent sovereign State all by itself? What Manatee county does in such back-stepping acts affects or has influence on the whole State. Any newspaper anywhere in Florida, especially in south Florida, is entitled to butt in. This Johnson can be one of the best butters-in and horners-in George ever saw when it comes to kicking against something that gives Florida an eye of purple hue.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

To The Voters Of St. Cloud.

I am running on an independent ticket. I belong to no clique nor clan. I have not taken sides with either party in our city fusses. I believe in equal rights and justice to all. If the voters entrust to my care the management of city affairs as Street Commissioner, I will give them my whole time. At the end of one year, if I have not given entire satisfaction, I will resign and let the man have the job who will work for nothing. The man who owns property here should be given the preference for this office. With kind words for all, I am yours truly. Z. BARAGER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate fon Mayor of the City of St. Cloud, subject to the action of the voters at the city election to be held on the last Tuesday in March. I will appreciate your vote and promise to enforce rigidly the laws of the city if elected.
LEVI SHAMBOW.

I wish to announce to the voters of the city of St. Cloud that I will be a candidate for election to the office I am now filling out until the city election, that of City Tax Assessor and Auditor, as a member of the city council.
C. Z. LIPPINCOTT

At the earnest solicitation of a great number of people in St. Cloud, I will be a candidate for re-election to the office of City Treasurer and member of the City Council, subject to the wishes of the voters of St. Cloud. W. G. KING.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of member of the city council as sanitary commissioner for the two-year term beginning on April 1, subject to the wishes of the voters in the city election to be held on the last Tuesday n March.
Z. T. McCLAY.

After serving one term as street commissioner and member of the city council, I have been urged by many of St. Cloud's voters to be a candidate for re-election, and hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election, subject to the wishes of the voters in the city election. N. H. WASHBURN.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of city councilman to fill the place of street commisioner. I will appreciate your vote in the city election to be held in March.
J. W. EMBREY.

For Street Commissioner, Member of City Council

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Member of City Council of the City of St. Cloud, in the position of Street Commissioner, subject to the action of the voters in the Election of March 29, 1919. JOHN T. HOGG

To The Voters Of St. Cloud.

Neillsville, Wis.; March 1, 1919.
Henry W. Corl, Esq., St. Cloud, Fla.—
Dear Sir:

Yours received. I am very glad to render my old friend Campbell any service in my power. Mr. Campbell was one of our very best citizens, and I shall hope he may be elected to any position to which he may be nominated in your city. Yours very truly,
JAMES O. NEILL.

Neillsville, Wis.: March 1, 1919.
We, the undersigned citizens of Neillsville, Wis., certify that we knew James Campbell, formerly of this city, for many years while he resided here; that each of us knew him intimately; and we state that he was a citizen of good ability and excellent character and of high standing in this community.

We recommend him to the good people of St. Cloud, Fla., as a man worthy of their trust and confidence.

JAMES O. NEILL, Circuit Judge.
GEORGE A. URR, Clerk Circuit Court.
L. CAMPMAN, Attorney.
O. W. SCHWENGARTH, County Judge.
R. F. KOUNTS, Court Commissioner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Childs returned to Waltham, Mass., Monday morning, after staying several months with their aunt, Mrs. Rosa Beliss. So delighted are they with St. Cloud that they will not be contented until they return and buy a home here, they assert. Mr. Childs is the builder of the excellent henhouse that can be seen on Mrs. Beliss's place, on Massachusetts avenue.

Miss Mary Young, who has been connected with the Bank of St. Cloud several months, left St. Cloud on Wednesday for Alberta, Canada. According to some of her personal friends, she soon will become the bride of an English soldier who has returned from service in Europe. She has made a host of friends in our city, all of whom will extend to her their best wishes in her new sphere of residence and life.

Mrs. Nellie Haynes, Mrs. Anna W. Leach, Mrs. Margaret Workman and little son, and Miss Elizabeth Ward, all from Kokomo, Ind.; John Ward of Peru, Ind., and Miss Louise Shearer of Gary, Ind., comprised a motor party that came on Saturday to St. Cloud from Winter Haven, where they have been staying thru the winter. They are guests of Mrs. M. Puckett-Foster, on Pennsylvania avenue, being friends of hers from her old-home town, Kokomo. They are favorably impressed with the apearance and advantages of St. Cloud.

Mrs. R. A. Converse and Mrs. Griswald left on Tuesday to stay several days at Tampa and St. Petersburg.

Mrs. Grady of Kissimmee, one of the W. C. T. U.'s State-wide workers, was in St. Cloud on Monday night in behalf of her commendable organization.

Mrs. Nellie Chase and Miss Gladys [illegible] sonville, after visiting several days with friends in St. Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rogers, who have been spending a week with friends in our city, left on Tuesday for a short stay at Jacksonville before returning to their home, at Smithburg, Md.

Mrs. Samuel Rode and Mrs. Hedrig will be the hostesses next Monday evening at the St. Cloud hotel at the weekly card-playing entertainment for the Red Cross.

Mrs. D. C. Wing spent Sunday in St. Cloud in visiting friends. Monday was the birthday of her husband, the late Dr. E. C. Wing, who passed away in this city a few months ago.

Miss Lou S. MacComber of Fall River, Mass., arrived in St. Cloud on Thursday of last week and is stopping at the Arrowood house, on Pennsylvania avenue. She is a sister of Mrs. F. L. Goodwin, who is a guest this winter at the New St. Cloud hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dunbar and their daughter Nellie, who have been staying the winter in Miami, arrived in St. Cloud via automobile Tuesday afternoon to visit old friends and acquaintances here a week or so before returning to their Northern home, in Illinois.

Joe Crosby returned home Saturday last, after spending six months in an army camp (Camp Jackson, in South Carolina). He lives about fifteen miles east of St. Cloud, in this county, and returns looking much improved in health. He gained thirty-one pounds of avoirdupois while under the care of Uncle Sam.

A. G. Allen's minstrel show is billed to appear at Kissimmee on Saturday afternoon and night. An advance agent has spread lithographs thru St. Cloud. It is announced that the show will appear under its own tent, and it promises to give the season's latest hits in minstrelsy. To lovers of black-face fun, this is the first opportunity of the season.

E. R. Bass, one of the most successful cattlemen of the Deer Park section of Osceola county, was a business visitor in St. Cloud on Tuesday. He reports a large acreage of potatoes in his section, and that the heavy rains probably had ruined only about eight acres of the several hundred acres planted in the Deer Park neighborhood, and that the remainder of the crop is looking fine.

Comrade William Davidson Croy of Bluefield, W. Va., arrived in our city this morning and is domiciled at the home of Comrade C. W. Deputy, Illinois avenue and Eleventh street. Mr. Croy was a member of the Second Massachusetts Heavy Artillery (Company A), and he would be glad to meet any comrades of that fighting division. This is his first visit to St. Cloud, and he is well pleased at the delightful climate and the home-like reception accorded ess and her friends. The occasion was mostly to show appreciation for Dr. Foster's services in supplying the local Baptist pulpit in the absence of a regular pastor.

Thursday evening of last week a surprise party was given Dr. May Puckett-Foster when a number of her friends appeared at her home, on Pennsylvania avenue, each carrying a package containing some useful article for Mrs. Foster. "It certainly was the pleasantest evening I ever enjoyed," said Mrs. Foster, when asked concerning the occasion. Readings, songs, and instrumental music made up an evening's entertainment enjoyed alike by the hostess and her friends.

L. L. Lucas, editor of the Tarpon Springs Leader and formerly connected with the St. Cloud Tribune, was a visitor in our city Saturday and Sunday of last week, having come here to accompany his wife back to their home, after she had spent a week in visiting with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. L. D. Frost and in lending her musical talent to making the great success it was of the superb musical recital given by Miss Jessie Lynde Hopkins for the benefit of the local Red Cross Chapter.

C. C. Pike, St. Cloud's up-to-date photographer, has started a movement to gather a pictorial history of veterans for the Veterans' Association's assembly room. This promises to be one of the unique features in the records of our veterans of the '60s. Mr. Pike offers to make a photograph of every veteran who visits this city, enrolling the record of army service thereon, and place the photographs in a large album that will be preserved in by the veterans' organization, at headquarters, for future reference. He will make no charge for these photographs nor for making the album, but will, of course, [illegible] when desired. Every veteran is urged to call as soon as possible at Mr. Pik's studio, in the Peckham building, and have his picture made for the veterans' album.

SHOW APPRECIATION FOR GENEROUS AND GENIAL MRS. W. P. KEISTER.

A delightful informal reception was given at the New St. Cloud hotel on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. William P. Keister, who left our city this morning.

Most of the evening was passed in the enjoyment of music, contributed as follows:

Piano duet by Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Buckmaster.

Solos by Mrs. J. K. Conn, Mrs. Keister, and Capt. Nason.

Vocal duet by Capt. Nason and Mrs. [illegible]

Singing of old-time favorites by a quintet.

Dr. May Packett-Foster, in her happy manner, presented the honoree with a bouquet of roses and orange blossoms tied with ribbon, and attached thereto was a concrete tho inadequate financial expression to Mrs. Keister for her generous use of her fine musical talent and social geniality for the entertainment of our citizens and visitors throughout the winter—at the different churches, social gatherings, public affairs, and entertainments generally.

After the program's rendition, the guests were invited to the hotel dining-room, where they were served light refreshments by Mrs. Mosher and Mrs. Rice-Miller.

WOMAN'S IMPROVEMENT CLUB.

The Woman's Improvement Club met last Wednesday afternoon. Several topics of business were discussed.

The plans for work at the cemetery are in progress.

A short program was presented. Mrs. Latimer of Charlestin, N. J., favored the club with two beautiful solos. An interesting legend was entertainingly told by Mrs. Loch Hendrix.

The club's members wish everybody would accept their oft-repeated invitation to enjoy its meetings.

It was generally expressed that the entertainment of March 3 was a gratifying success. Everybody in the city will share in the fininacial gain therefrom, and all who attended the entertainment were mentally refreshed.

The club's next meeting will be at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, March 19.

COMRADE REAGIN'S BIRTHDAY ENJOYABLY CELEBRATED.

March 7 Comrade Reagan was happily surprised in connection with his seventy-ninth birthday anniversary.

His good wife prepared a bountiful dinner and invited several of their neighbors to partake of it with them, and the participants spent a happy day in the cozy Reagan home.

Among the fortunate guests were Mrs. M. P. Julian, Mrs. Stillwell, and Comrade and Mrs. Van Natta. Comrade Reagan entertained the party with enjoyable music on his violin.

Among the good things served at the dinner were strawberries, honey, and that Methodist delight—chicken.

We all wish Comrade Reagan many more happy birthday anniversaries.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR COMRADE HOOPER.

Feb. 19 last the neighbors of Henry Hooper of Michigan avenue surprised him by calling in to celebrate his seventy-sixth birthday anniversary.

A number of useful gifts was presented, one being a lantern, concerning which he was advised to keep it filled with oil and to let his light shine. A bountiful supply of ice cream and cake was served.

Seventeen friends were present—Mr. and Mrs. Esprey, Mrs. Bashore, Mr. and Mrs. Stoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Reagan and son Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Slater, Mrs. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, all of St. Cloud; Mr. and Mrs. Struble of Logan, Ohio. (Mrs. Struble is a daughter of Mrs. Hooper.)

Messrs. Esprey, Murphy, Slater, Reagan, and Hooper were comrades of the fighting days of the '60s. Comrade Reagan made a little speech for the flag which they had served, and each of these veterans related some of the incidents of their experience during their days of war.

At a late hour his guests took their leave of Mr. Hooper, wishing him happiness and health and many more birthday anniversaries.

NEW ENGLAND SOCIETY MEETS.

March 11 the New England Society met upstairs in G. A. R. Memorial hall and opened its meeting by singing "America," followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Riggs. The treasurer's report was read by Miss Epple.

Mrs. White will have charge of the entertainment program at the society's next meeting, in April.

Remarks on "The Star-Spangled Banner" were made by Rev. Mr. Riggs.

A reading by Mrs. Knapp on "The Language of the Hand" was very interesting.

A song, "The Angel of No Man's Land," by Miss Jane Warner brought an encore, for which she sang "A Perfect Day."

Mr. Stevenson rendered a violin selection, accompanied by Mrs. Pettit.

A reading by Mr. Dougherty, "Uncle Joe," was encored.

A song selection by Capt. Nason and Al Dougherty, "The Littel Bronze Button," was encored, the response being "Old Glory, the Flag of the Free."

A piano duet, "Dance in the Mountains," by Mrs. Guy Morgan and Mrs. Buckmaster, was encored, and they responded with the andante and rondo from the "Second Sonata."

"The Star-Spangled Banner," sung by the audience, concluded a successful and enjoyable meeting.

CITY MARSHAL RESIGNS, BUT MAYOR INDUCES HIM TO STAY.

City Marshal William Montsdoca advises the Tribune that he has handed his resignation as marshal to Mayor Conn and has asked to be relieved, but that the mayor has prevailed on him to remain on the job until after the city election, when, a new [illegible] the appointment of a marshal to consider, to which Mr. Montsdoca has acquiesced.

Mr. Montsdoca has been marshal of St. Cloud three or four years, and—while, of course, there have been some kicks against him—he has generally been found to be on the job when law violators attempted to get away.

UPSET OCCURS IN KISSIMME CITY NOMINATING PRIMARY.

The primary of the White Man's party in Kissimmee on Saturday last, March 8, resulted in a general upset in the municipal government of St. Cloud's the municipalgo vernment of St. Cloud's twin city.

City Clerk Gilbert and City Treasurer Roberson had no opposition, and therefore their names did not appear in the primary ballot.

The mayor, four retiring councilmen, and the marshal were the remaining officials to be nominated, and each had opposition, and the opposition was strong enough to defeat every incumbent whose name appeared on the primary ballot. The successful ones are:

Mayor—W. J. Steed.

Councilmen—George W. Fox, R. S. Floyd, and H. M. Breaker, two years each; W. H. Arnold, unexpired term.

Marshal and Tax Collector—J. M. Woodall.

The votes received

The names of all the cadidates and the votes they received are as follows:

For Mayor—

W. J. Steed	196	7
J. S. Cadel (incumbent)	149	..
E. A. Milton	29	46

For Councilmen—

(Two-Year Term—Three Nominated.)

George W. Fox	257	..
R. S. Floyd	237	..
H. M. Breaker	188	..
Gay C. Livingston	109	..
Howard M. Katz	102	..
W. W. Carson (incumbent)	87	..
F. H. Lawson (incumbent)	50	..

(Unexpired Term—One Nominated.)

W. H. Arnold	250	..
A. S. Reed (incumbent)	101	..

For Marshal and Tax Collector—

J. M. Woodall	170	17
G.W.Overstreet (incumbent)	143	13
Howell Bass	71	50

For Members of Executive Committee Of White Man's Party—

W. C. Bass	240	..
G. W. Persons	241	..
Z. Bess	229	..
Alan J. MacDonough	219	..
C. A. Carson	218	..

Five members of the executive committee were to be chosen, so none of the candidates for these positions had opposition.

The second-choice votes made no difference in the standing of any of the candidates. The second-choice votes cast by supporters of the two leading candidates for one or the other of these candidates are not included in the figures above, as they would not have been counted in arriving at the result had it been necessary to count any of the second-choice votes. The 7 second-choice votes given to Steed above came from Milton voters, and the second-choice votes Milton received came from Cadel and Steed voters. This by way of illustration.

The prospective mayor is a partner in the law firm of Kribbs, Akerman & Steed, and is a young man from DeLand, Fla., having come to Kissimmee about three years ago. He went to the Mexican border in the scare of two or more years ago, and lately has returned from military service with Uncle Sam's forces, but not having reached the overseas service stage when the latest war ceased.

The new marshal and tax collector to-be formerly had charge of the street force in Kissimmee, but lately has returned from war work in Jacksonville. He is a native Osceolan.

Mr. Fox long has been a Kissimmee property owner and winter resident, but became a permanent resident a little more than two years ago. He is a lawyer from Tennessee.

H. M. Breaker is a well-known real-estate dealer and formerly served on the City Council.

Mr. Arnold is a long-time resident of Kissimmee and is a partner in the engineering and contracting firm of Arnold & MacDonough.

The primary was keenly contested. The chief objection made to the incumbent officials is said to be that they were not active enough in making improvements [illegible] enemies during his three years' service in this office which had much to do with his retirement.

The election will take place in the last week in March, but it will be merely a formality—a ratification of the results of last Saturday's primary.

Partisanship in the common acceptance of the term is unknown in Kissimmee's municipal politics. Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, etc., participate alike in the primaries of the White Man's party. The only requisites demanded of a voter are that he be a white man and a qualified voter.

DANCE FOR SOLDIERS

The women of Kissimmee will entertain the returned soldiers and sailors with a dance at the Graystone hotel in Kissimmee tomorrow (Friday) night.

The returned soldier and sailor boys in St. Cloud and vicinity, and elsewhere in Osceola county, are cordially invited to attend and take along their wives, or mothers, or sweethearts, or sisters.

Each sailor or soldier is requested to [illegible] uniform.

Of course—there will be no charge of any sort. Anybody else will be welcomed also.

The hostesses will be Mrs. S. H. Bullock, Mrs. H. C. Stanford, Mrs. L. H. Ingram, and Mrs C. F. Burrows

This is the motto or directory hanging on the wall of the public restroom on Broadway.

How will this compare with the fraternity of rest and bench patrons in St. Cloud?

The Kissimmee branch room is for every one—men, women, and children. Dogs who are mild, with clean coats, may stay with their masters or mistresses when there is plenty of space. The headquarters are numerously attended every day.

CAMPBELLS AND THE CAMELS

BY JACKERCRACK.

Campbell, April 13.—Some of the Campbells here have their backs up, some times, like the camels of Africa; but they soon get them down, and everything runs along smooth.

I met here a man of big business, W. B. Osteen, foreman of the rock-ballasting gangs that are riprapping the Atlantic Coast Line roadbed from Lakeland to Orlando. The work is now finished from the first-named city to two miles north of Campbell.

Foreman Osteen's camp has been removed from here to Kissimmee. The result of this work will be pleasanter riding on the A. C. L., and the babies and invalids can then go without danger of being jolted to death—or almost.

Comrade Private J. Brown arrived here, at home, from "somewhere in France" Monday night. He had been there nine months. The Tampa Tribune correspondent reported that he was severely wounded, but he had only a broken leg, and it is now all right. He received his discharge last Sunday.

A party will be given next week in honor of the returned soldiers.

Campbell has a fine little park. It has some shade and ornamental trees.

Photographer Wilder of Kissimmee was here Wednesday, taking pictures of the town.

Earle Larier, a returned soldier from the French country, arrived back home this week. Wonder a French girl didn't get him. They are so interesting and ambitious for American husbands.

"Imogene" is the name of a pet pig here. She is lazy, gentle, and persevering. She welcomes strangers.

One hundred thousand dollars was paid for the Lesley homestead—a two-story house, big water station with a tank, and 10,000 acres, which are mostly pasture land.

A community monthly sing is a feature of life here.

The Tribune now has a regular correspondent at Campbell.

MOTHER SHIPTON'S PROPHECIES.

(Published by Request.)

The following prophetic poem, which is known as "Mother Shipton's Prophecies," is said to have been published first in 1488 and was republished in 1641:

"Carriages without horses shall go,
And accidents fill the world with woe.
Around the world thoughts shall fly
In the twinkling of an eye.
Water shall more wonders do,
Very strange, yet shall be true—
The world upside down shall be,
And gold be found at the foot of tree.
Through hills man shall ride,
And no horse or ass [illegible] his side.
Under water men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk.
In the air, men shall be seen,
In white, in black, in green.
Iron in the water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found, and found
In a land that is not now known.
Fire and water shall wonders do.
England shall at last admit a Jew.
The world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one."

Research has shown, however, that probably half of these prophecies were added to the original publication as the years went by.

NARCOOSSEE

BY JACKERCRACK.

This station nearly depopulated the alphabet of the letters o, s, and e; but no one here is responsible. That was done by the Indians who made the name.

A.W. Lowe of the famous Miami valley, Ohio, comes here every winter. His so Roy is a resident here and lives on a plantation owned by his father, who will return North this spring.

"The groves are looking in fine shape, the fish are biting like the dickens, and the cat had kittens this morning."

Narcoossee has a fine little schoolhouse. It has a pretty bell tower, with a good bell in it, and there are many shade trees.

That view of the lake from the train east of the first station east of St. Cloud is inspiringly beautiful. The lake around Kissimmee looks like a barn yard compared to it.

The razorbacks are getting along comfortably and are in better flesh than some of them are elsewhere.

When the conductor called "Narcoossee!" a passenger exclaimed: "Have I got to stop riding here? I was just getting used to it!" He got aboard at St. Cloud. I do not believe it will be many years before the railroad will be extended to the East Coast railway, only about twenty miles away.

Oranges and grapefruit. The oranges are delicious. I sat down and ate four without stopping—except for breath. I never ate finer-flavored ones or more juicy in all the days I have spent on the face of the American Earth. Mr. J. B. Tindall who has a big grove, says oranges and grapefruit grow better here than anywhere he knows of.

Samuel Young and his wife are a newly married couple here. Sam is a well-known and well-liked colored citizen. He and his "missus" live on the old home place of Sam's folks, east of the station, which property he has owned about twelve years. He has a ten-acre farm here, with a good grove on it. Forty Rhode Island Red and Plymouth Rock chickens are among their possessions.

Some Popular Misconceptions

BY REV. E. J. RIGGS, ST. CLOUD.

After many years of listening to public speakers and noting their peculiarities, I have come to certain conclusions that possibly may be worth recording.

Some speakers apparetnly seek to impress audiences by their vociferousness, by the volume of sound they give forth. What they lack in force of argument, they seek to supply by a big noise. They expect to convince people more by their vehemence of utterance than by anything like logic or good sense. This method takes quite readily with many of the crowd, for unthinking people often mistake noise for earnestness. If a man thrashes about and yells at the top of his voice, they think he must be very much in earnest; while a man of quiet demeanor, who is less demonstrative, they think is wanting a proper zeal and enthusiasm.

There are public speakers who continually "play to the gallery," who seek the applause of their hearers by extravagant statements of one kind or another—statements that are altogether out of proportion to the real facts of the case, statements that make an altogether false impression, but which, the speaker is aware, are calculated to tickle the ears of the unthinking and bring forth a round of applause. Such speech is, of course, mere buncombe, mere claptrap, but is readily swallowed by the average audience, and the speaker is voted a smart fellow.

Somebody has said that the difference between preachers is like this: One man goes into the pulpit and says in a very quiet and moderate way, "Hickory, dickery, dock; the mouse ran up the clock." That man gets $600 a year. Another man goes into the pulpit and says in a brisk and animated way, "Hickory, dickery, dock; the mouse ran up the clock." That man receives $1,200 a year. Still another man mounts the pulpit, yells at the top of his voice, and thrashes about "to beat the band," and he is voted $2,000 a year and is counted a great pulpit orator.

An old lady once said of her favorite minister: "Ah, he was a powerful preacher. During the time that he dispensed the gospel, he kicked three pulpits to pieces and pounded the insides out of five Bibles.

Another error into which people readily fall is in mistaking mud for profundity. If a preacher is obscure in his utterances, if he fails to make himself understood by his hearers, they think it must be because he is uncommonly learned and profound. Simplicity, they think, is a sign of shallowness. They are like the woman who went to hear a certain noted preacher, and afterwards, being asked how she liked him, replied: "You don't call him a great preacher, do you? Why, I could understand every word he said."

The scriptures, it will be remembered, speak of men who darken counsel by words without knowledge. It is or was the custom in Scotland for people to carry their Bibles to church and look up the scripture passages referred to by the minister in his sermon. A woman returning from a church service one day told her friend that the preacher used so many big words in his sermon of which she did not understand the meaning that it would have been better if she had left her Bible at home and taken her dictionary.

Contrary to the notion of many persons, simplicity is the mark of intellectual power. A man who has a clear idea of what he wants to say usually has no difficulty in making it clear to his hearers; while the man whose ideas are vague and confused and muddled will be unable to convey any clear idea of his meaning to those who hear him.

HOW DUCKS DESTROY MOSQUITOES.

People who live near ponds or other still or slow-moving water should keep ducks—that is, if they are in a section infested by mosquitoes.

So said some time ago the Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health. He based this advice on a series of thoro experiments his department had made in preventing the breeding of mosquitoes.

These pests breed in stagnant or quiet water. The connection of ducks with this fact is that ducks greedily devour the mosquito pupae and larvae.

For breeding grounds, some varieties of mosquitoes prefer the stagnant water in a clogged eaves trough or in a tin can in the back yard. The duck can not be expected, of course, to attend to these breeds.

The duck will, however, attend to all baby mosquitoes that appear in any pool of water.

The experiments consisted of constructing two pools—one for ducks and one for fish—and ascertaining in which pond mosquitoes would breed.

Goldfish did not seem to interfere with the mosquito households at all in their pond; but twenty mallard ducks kept their pool free.

Later, ten of the ducks were placed in the fish pond, and within a few hours they cleared out the swarms of mosquito pupae and larvae.

Other experimenters have found that some kinds of fish will eat baby mosquitoes; thus fish have been recommended as a protection; but the Pennsylvania tests give complete assurance that the mallard duck will do the work.

MICHIGANDERS IN ST. CLOUD HAVE FEAST AND FUN.

Michigan people to the number of eighty attended the gathering of the Michigan Association on March 5. They attended with baskets filled with all kinds of good things to eat, which the women soon were busy unloading onto the long tables which were placed on either side in the old G. A. R. hall.

After everybody was seated, Rev. Mr. Stewart returned thanks to the Giver of all good for our many blessings and for the pleasures of the Michigan Association meetings.

At 2 p. m. the meeting was called to order by I. L. Jenkins, and "America" was sung as the opening song, followed by prayer offered by Rev. M. Stewart. The minutes of the last previous meeting were read, and were approved as read. The treasurer's report was presented and accepted.

A petition asking that a home and sanitarium for disabled soldiers be built in St. Cloud was placed before the meeting for approval and signatures, and all present signed it.

The next meeting of the association will be at the home of J. F. and Mrs. Bullard, on the lake front. All Michigan people are invited to go—with well-filled baskets—and spend the day and enjoy the beautiful surroundings of the Bullard home.

Mrs. Carrie Williams had charge of the entertainment program, which embraced:

"Bring Back My Kitty To Me" and "Jingle Bells," by Virgil Haney.

"Stand By the President," a reading by Mrs. Ella Bates.

Mrs. B. E. Thompson recited a fine poem, but its title can not be recalled.

Song, entitled "Old Shady," by J. F. Bullard.

Select reading by Mrs. Barager.

Song by J. U. Burch.

The president made some common-sense remarks on President Wilson and conditions at the peace conference at this time.

Herbert Leon Cope, humorist (called in army camps "Kill-the-Blues Cope"), came into the hall and kept the audience in a roar of laughter from the beginning to the close of the entertainment.

After which the meeting adjourned.
A. ANSBAUGH, Secretary.

TAKE NOTICE, BADGERS!

Sweetheart Asks For His Property

BY JACKERCRACK.

This is a case where a woman tried to make a fool of a man, and he had sense and will enough to refuse to let her win the game.

I will call the man Mr. Coon and the woman Mrs. Wolf. They are of middle age; the man from Indiana and the woman from the frisky State of Michigan.

Three weeks and a half ago the lady arrived in St. Cloud. This was the result of a correspondence that had been going on between the pair. The letter writing started from a matrimonial advertisement. One of them—I am not sure which—had inserted it in a newspaper, which the other one discovered and answered.

The courtship of the pair must have proceeded very rapidly, for in two days—of course, two short days—the bird flew, Heaven only knows where. Before she [illegible] away, Mrs. Wolf tried to persuade Mr. Coon to deed her some of his property. He is understood to be well fixed in this particular in the Northern country. She wished this property made over to her before the event of their marriage, if there was to be one; and here again I am in the dark, for I can not say surely if there was to be one; but there can be little doubt that wedding bells before this would have rung in St. Cloud if the lover had not refused to give up the "dough."

Failing to induce Mr. Coon to make a prenuptial will in her favor, Mrs. Wolf told him she wished to visit some friends in Boston before they became married. This, of course, looks as if she was going to forgive him for not settling his property on her before the wedding and had decided to take him "for better or worse" anyhow. So the "sweetheart" went up yonder to Boston, "the hub of the universe."

Mr. Coon received two letters from Mrs. Wolf postmarked "Boston." She had told him before she fore herself away from him that she would come back to him i two weeks. Looks like she forgot it, as she has never returned to the Wonder City. (Notice in this connection how well the town has been named.)

Perhaps in those two weeks at Boston she played the same game she did here, and has now a man and his money. Perhaps she lost out again. Mr. Coon has no hope of seeing Mrs. Wolf again.

Is not this tough on the man? Tough!—and yet fortunate for him?

A St. Cloud Plantation

Interesting Sights To See—Best Poultry House In Osceola County.

BY JACKERCRACK.

I was much interested in a ramble I rambled over the place and thru the pretty, comfortable, and convenient home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Gardiner. It is called "The Oaks," and very properly, as there are seven of them in the yards. Other trees are: Five umbrella trees, a monster banana tree and some juniors,s even water-oaks.

The poultry-house caught my special attention. It has been said to be the best one in this county. There are five apartments under the roof, 10x20 feet, including nests and roosts; a gate leads from each to outside yards. Running from the middle entrance gate of the hennery back to the far side under the roof is a broad cement floor.

There are in the chicken-house three White Plymouth Rock veterans. These have retired from active service. But there are twelve of the biggest and most vigorous-looking business White Plymouth Rock hens I ever saw. They lay almost every day. Last month they produced 251 eggs. For the year ending last Dec. 31, there were 8 old hens and 12 pullets; there were 25 at the beginning of the year. A total of 2,811 eggs for twelve months.

Mr. Gardiner feeds his poultry on ground corn and oats, straight oats, scratch feed, wheat shorts, wheat, oyster shells and mica grit (for building egg shells), meat scraps, charcoal, salt, and ground corn. He does not feed them all these articles at the same time, but judiciously,as they need them.

For green food, the biddies get sprouted oats, collards, radishes, carrots (tops and all), and grasses, all of which are raised here in the garden.

VETERANS' ASSOCIA'N.

The regular weekly meeting of the Veterans' Association was called to order by President W. Frank Kenney at the usual hour on March 8. The opening song was "America," followed by a prayer offered by Rev. Silas Cooke. The minutes of the last previous meeting were read, and were approved as read.

The president announced that Mrs. Grove had donated a basket of fine lemons for the benefit of the G. A. R. Memorial hall fund. The lemons were sold at auction for 75 cents by W. F. Kenney as auctioneer.

Comrade Cooke stated that the petitions asking that a soldiers' sanitarium and home be established at St. Cloud were ready for signatures, and he requested all men and women present to sign them.

Mrs. Knapp, in her pleasing manner, welcomed all tourists to our Wonder City and tendered them the freedom of St. Cloud by presenting to them the "golden key" to this city. The key was made by the president, who made a short and appropriate speech after the presentation.

Then the collection was taken and the St. Cloud yell was given.

The entertainment program, arranged by Mrs. Whitbeck, comprised:

Song, "Nellie Gray," by the choir.

Reading by Mrs. Penn of a poem, the author of which is G. W. Pean. (Failed to learn its title.)

Song, "Tenting Tonight," by the choir.

Reading, "Neighbors," by Mrs. Julia French.

Song by Comrade Fowler and Mrs. Cooke.

"Aunt Jerusha Primrose," by Mrs. Ansbaugh.

Two songs, entitled "Who's to Blame?" and "Reuben and Rachel," by Comrade and Mrs. Depew.

The singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" then closed the meeting.

ANNA ANSBAUGH, Secretary.

PENNSYLVANIANS HAD AN ENJOYABLE MEETING.

The Pennsylvania Association met in G. A. R. Memorial hall at 2 p. m. Thursday, March 6, with President Silas Cooke, First Vice-President A. S. McKay, Second Vice-President Lillian Lowe, Secretary and Chorister William P. Lynch, Chaplain A. L. Brand, and Treasurer W. F. Kenney present in their official capacities.

The meeting was opened by singing "America," followed by prayer by the chaplain.

The second song was a fine one, sang nicely by Mrs. J. K. Conn.

The minutes of the last previous meeting were accepted as read.

A fine entertainment program was presented by Mrs. Silas Cooke, comprising the following:

Solo by Mrs. J. K. Conn.

Reading by Mrs. Posten, "Flanders Field and Challenge."

Reading by Mrs. Howe.

Mrs. W. P. Keister rendered most charmingly two fine solos, with Mrs. Guy Morgan at the piano.

Solo by Capt. Nason, who responded to an encore with another song, with Mrs. Morgan accompanying him at the piano. Both were fine.

Readings by Rev. Mr. Gemmell, "Blue Juanita" and other selections.

Solo by Mrs. Cassell, "Blue Juanita," with Mrs. Keister at the piano.

Solo by Capt. Nason, accompanied by Mrs. Morgan at the piano.

Solo by Mrs. Sprague, with Mrs. Morgan as pianist.

Reading by Mrs. Hurton.

Duet by Mrs. Keister and Capt. Nason, with Mrs. Morgan as pianist.

A. S. McKay delivered several pleasing selections.

Reminiscences of Pennsylvania life in the "olden days" were narrated by Dr. Cooke, Rev. A. L. Brand, Mr. Hildebrand, and A. S. McKay, all of which were entertaining.

Song by Mrs. L. Sprague. Fine.

Recitation by Master Robert Stewart that was much applauded.

It is sincerely regretted that two excellent select readings rendered at the last prvious meeting of the association were accidentally omitted from the published account of that meeting.

The association then adjourned—to meet again on the first Thursday in April.

JOYFUL NEWS FOR OUR TERRYS.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Terry of Kentucky avenue have received news of the arrival on Monday, March 3, in New York of their son, Robert A. Terry, from France on a French steamship, the Lorraine. He now is in a camp in New Jersey, awaiting orders to go to a demobilization camp to receive his discharge papers.

This soldier son of our Terrys served in the First Gas Regiment more than a year, and also in the trenches, and he "went over the top" with gas bombs in quest of the Huns. His parents are longingly and anxiously awaiting his return to St. Cloud. After his participation in so many engagements of arduous fighting in the Argonne forests, and at St. Mihiel, Verdun, and other historic battle places, they are grateful their boy is spared.

"We are longing for a lasting peace among all the nations," said Mr. Terry to the Tribune, "and we hope that German autocracy is dead and buried and that the memory of the work done by OUR BOYS 'over there' may live forever in song and story, and that future generations may bless them as Lincoln and Washington are blessed. God grant that the sorrows of nations in distress may be some time turned into joy, and that the swords of war may be changed into the pruning hooks of peace."

MEDICINE VS. FOOD.

Do not buy something which you already have. You have food which you feed your horses, cattle and sheep; but when you want medicine, buy only medicine. That is what you get in B. A. Thomas's Stock Remedy. We sell it and guarantee it to be medicine. We tell you that it will tone up the entire system of your stock and aid digestion, thereby causing them to get all the food value out of the grain that you feed them. (Adv.)

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?
LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong And Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes thru the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy, they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily; when unhealthy, some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms, which vary widely, but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right, the danger is overcome.

Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

C. L. Loveless, painter, 207 Irvin street, Orlando, Fla., says: "The turpentine fumes affected my kidneys and caused lame back last summer. I could hardly get up or down because of the severe pain across my kidneys, and it kept me awake all night, as I had to pass the secretions so frequently. As I had taken Doan's Kidney Pills with good results, I got three boxes. They cured the backache and fixed my kidneys up all right. I was soon well again."

WHAT WILL THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE DO TO YOU?

And what will it do for you?

Every measure which goes before it will affect you directly or indirectly.

You owe it to yourself to keep fully informed regarding the proceedings of the coming session.

Do not wait until some injurious law has been enacted and then kick about its enforcement. Watch the bills introduced from day to day.

When you see that a dangerous one has been offered, protest right away to your Senator and Representative. Be equally prompt in commending good measures.

THE FLORIDA TIMES-UNION WILL KEEP YOU FULLY POSTED.

As usual, the Florida Times-Union will print daily the fullest and most complete reports of the work of the State Legislature at the coming regular session.

Three staff correspondents of this paper will be kept at Tallahassee during the entire session, and they will report fully everything of general interest.

The Times-Union will carry every day ten to fifteen columns of the legislative proceedings, its reporters covering not only the actual happenings of the day, but the equally important "under-ground" workings of the Capital City.

THE MOST COMPLETE LEGISLATIVE REPORTS, AND THE BEST GENERAL NEWS SERVICE, TOO.

No other Florida newspaper will undertake the handling of the Legislature's work in any such complete and comprehensive way.

You will need the Times-Union to keep informed about the doings at Tallahassee, while the lawmakers are there, no matter how many other papers you read.

Meanwhile the Times-Union will continue to give its readers the news of the world and the news of Florida in the exhaustive way that has made its station as a great newspaper.

The editorial page, the society departments, the literary features, the "comic" illustrations, the market reports, and all other sections of the Times-Union are today better than ever before.

By mail (daily and Sunday), postage prepaid: One month, 85 cents; three months, $2.25; six months, $4.50; one year, $9.

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION, Jacksonville, Fla.

EXTRA.—If your subscription order is forwarded to the Times-Union direct and promptly with $1, your name will be added to its mail list from March 20 to June 5. This will more than cover the entire Legislature period, and it means that you will receive the Times-Union at less than the "before-the-war" subscription rate. This is a special offer, and does not mean any permanent reduction in subscription rates. The offer is open to all. Send ONE dollar. (Adv.) 29-2t

TAKE NOTICE, IOWANS!

At 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning of next week the Iowa Association will meet in the old G. A. R. hall. Bring baskets with eatables sufficient for a picnic dinner at noon.

The business session will begin at 1:30 p. m., to be followed by an entertaining social program.

Anybody formerly a resident of Iowa is invited to be present and participate in the pleasures of the day.

Committees Of Award Necessary.

Chapter chairmen are requested to give immediate attention to the appointment of committees of award where this has not been done already. The little badge of service is due the men and women who have worked faithfully for the Red Cross during the past two years, but it can not be awarded if the chapter fails to compile the necessary records.

St. Luke's Unit Disbands.

The members of St. Luke's Unit of American Red Cross, deciding to disband as a unit, reports that the amount of cash on hand $18.75) was deposited in the Bank of St. Cloud to the credit of St. Cloud Chapter on Feb. 20, 1919.

Workers Needed At Once.

Workers are urgently needed to complete the consignment of convalescent robes on time. This time is March 25—less than two weeks hence.

Recital Yields $60 Profit.

At the regular meeting of the Red Cross on Friday, March 7, reports were read from the various committees.

The report of the finance chairman relative to the management of the musical recital on Feb. 28 showed every ticket sold was represented in the audience—excepting eleven. The total receipts were $86; total expenses, $26; balace, $60.

War Council Ceases To Exist.

The War Council of the American Red Cross—the body which, since the entry of the United States in to the war for liberty and civilization, has directed the greatest humanitarian work in the world's history—passed out of existence March 1, when the management of the organization reverted to the central committee provided for in its charter. It leaves a proud record and returns to the permanent governing board an organization trained and filled with inspiration for the Red Cross "carry on" work of the future.

COMRADE SHALCROSS DIES.

Comrade John W. Shalcross, who a few weeks ago came to St. Cloud in bad health, was found dead in his cottage, on New York avenue, on Sunday morning by Comrade Stebbins, apparently having suffered an attack of heart failure in the night.

The body was taken to the Carlson undertaking parlors after Justice of the Peace Porter had reviewed the matter, and the remains were shipped away Wednesday afternoon. The veterans escorted the body to the railroad station.

Fine Opportunity To Get Valuable Books For Library

The late Dr. Stewart had a small library in this city which contains several sets of very valuable books. Now that these books are offered for sale, an opportunity is presented for the public-spirited people of St. Cloud to create a fund for buying these books and then presenting them to the public library, which is under the direction of the Woman's Improvement Club.

The books now are in the hands of Capt. J. F. Farris and are stored in the Farris building, and they may be seen by applying to Capt. Farris or to any of the officers of the Improvement Club.

The books comprise, among many others, a ten-volume set of "Photographic History of the Civil War," ten volumes of "Literature of All Nations," a set of "History of the World," "Famous Nations," "National Service Library, "Union Classic Library," and a set of "Historical Characters and Famous Events." There are about 100 volumes of popular fiction, and various works of real literary merit. The lot is worth considering as an addition to the city library.

This matter should be taken up at once, as the books are offered for sale to avoid the trouble and expense of packing and shipping them away

ST. LUKE'S MISSION NOTES.

(Contributed.)

Miss Mary Young of Alberta, Canada, left for her Northern home on Wednesday. She has assisted in our music, which is much appreciated by St. Luke's Mission people. Canon Bryan baptized Miss Young last Sunday morning. Our people extend to her their wishes for a safe and pleasant journey to her Canada home.

The services Sunday morning were very impressive. Canon Bryan administered the communion to a sick member of the mission at her home after the church service.

We are to lose a dear and valued member of the mission in the coming week. Mrs. Ellen Sears leaves for a Northern home, in Springfield, Ohio, with her brother and his wife, who have been with her here the last two months. Mrs. Sears is confined to her chair, the result of a serious fall that broke her knee and a second fall that injured the hip. She is a greatly improved physical condition, however, and we hope she may be restored to a normal condition.

The annual social supper of St. Luke's guild on Shrove Tuesday evening was a very pleasant affair. Six tables were seated with our members and tourist guests. The success of the entire affair is accredited to Mrs. Sarah Norris and her efficient committee.

Another church family has left St. Luke's—Mr. Bethea and his family. We seem to be severely afflicted in this manner the present season.

The new violet altar hangings are in place and add to the dignity and solemnity of our Lenten services.

The guild meets on Thursday afternoons thruout Lent to sew for the Cathedral School at Orlando—this week with Mrs. L. D. Frost, next week with Mrs. W. J. Mallett.

MEETING OF ARMY AND NAVY UNION AUXILIARY.

(Reported.)

Elsie P. McElroy Auxiliary (No. 17) of the Army and Navy Union held its regular semi-monthly meeting on Monday, March 10, at the Moose hall. The meeting was called to order at 2 o'clock with Lady Commander Esmeralda Vreeland in the chair. The minutes of the last previous meeting were read, and were approved as read.

Reports of committees were very satisfactory. Four applications for membership were received, and a committee was appointed to pass on them.

There was a large attendance, and those present enjoyed the proceedings. Interesting talks for the good of the order were made by Patriotic Instructor Agnes Livermore, Lady Comrade E. Westcott, and Lady Adjutant Dora Fraucher.

Lady Chaplain Emma E. Williams being absent, her place was taken by Lady Comrade Stillwell.

The next meeting will be March 24. All lady comrades are urged to attend New business will be taken up and there will be installation of new members.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES.

Dr. May Puckett-Foster will supply the pulpit at the Baptist church in both morning and evening services next Sunday. A representative of Columbia College (the Florida Baptist college at Lake City) will speak in connection with the morning service.

Special singers will favor the congregation at this church with music at this Sunday's services.

More than $100 in cash was the receipts from "A Dress Rehearsal," a play presented by the Glee Club Girls of the St. Cloud High School at G. A. R. Memorial hall last Friday evening. The entertainment was very enjoyable, the hall being filled to its capacity. Mrs. Guy S. Morgan directed the entire musical program, which was a decided hit from start to finish. The young ladies who participated in the light opera are due much credit for the manner in which the play was rendered.

State High School Inspector Cauthen and County School Superintendent C. E. Yowell visited the St. Cloud High School today.

"Schnarr's Spray Formula" Is An Old Friend With A New Name

Every citrus grower who has used Schnarr's Insecticide knows it is the one positive control for white fly and scale. Results from its use have been so completely satisfactory that there was no room for any improvement in this respect.

Occasionally, however, there have been comments about a slight difficulty in mixing Schnarr's Insectectide with the hard water found in certain sections of Florida. After years of study and many experiments we have developed Schnarr's Insecticide so that it now

Mixes With Hard Water and Stays Mixed

Schnarr's Spray Formula is Schnarr's Insecticide improved. It mixes thoroughly with hard water and will not separate in sudden climatic changes.

As Schnarr's Insecticide is recognized as the leader of all sprays for citrus trees, it is fitting that its makers should be the first to overcome the hard water difficulty.

Schnarr's Spray formula, as it will hereafter be known, should be used in the same proportions and in the same manner as has been the old reliable Schnarr's Insecticide, the standby of Florida growers.

You can use Schnarr's Spray Formula, completely confident that it will quickly and thoroughly control white fly and scale insects and that it will mix with hard water and stay mixed, and in every way prove the completely efficient citrus spray.

J. Schnarr & Company
Orlando, Fla.

Orders will be accepted during March, for shipment immediately or up to June 1st, at prices for which Schnarr's Insecticide has been selling during the past year. On April 1st prices must be advanced on account of higher manufacturing costs, increased prices of chemicals, etc. Order now and save money.

HANDCUFF KING OFFERS $20 FOR EACH NOVEL SUGGESTION THAT HE ACCEPTS.

At the Palm theater next Tuesday night, in St. Cloud, Houdini (internationally known as "the handcuff king") will enact the hero's role in "The Master Mystery." His work in this serial of fifteen pictures includes escaping from bonds of barbed wire, from shackles while in a sealed box under water, and many other startling stunts of a daring and thrilling nature.

Houdini offers a prize of $20 in gold to any one who will send him a suggestion for a feat of self-liberation that he accepts.

Any suggestion addressed to Manager J. D. Woodbeck of the Palm theater will be forwarded to Houdini, who personally will advise correspondents what disposition he makes of their respective suggestions.
